Miscellaneous information:- Probable that this Katherine married three times in her life. 1) Richard Colyntone* - the will of Hugh Hunte mentions the son of his wife Katherine as Richard Colyntone, junior.

2) Hugh Hunte* - died in 1389. Had a wife - Katherine and one son - John.

3) Henry Calf*. He did not make any bequest to a son John, but his second wife - Katherine does mention this John. It is possible that John was Katherine's son by Hugh Hunte.

In 1410 there appears the will of a John Hunte alias Calf.

Miscellaneous information:- 1492 December 5th. Dispute occurred over division of the estate of Thomas Rowley. Ruling was that in future any estate should be equally divided into three, one third to the widow, one to the children, one for the good of the testator's soul. In case where no widow was left the estate should be divided equally between the children and benefits for the soul. Also the ruling was made that when children were over fourteen years of age they could make a will. William Rowley's four daughters were all under fourteen when he died - Margaret - six, Elizabeth - four, Alice - three, Joan - infant, shared an estate valued at £524 - 13 - 4. Because of the amount involved the mayor was given custody of girls and that of their inheritance to Margaret Rowley, Widow, and grandmother of the girls. She, John Estrefeld*; William Wodyngton; William Rowley, senior, merchants and burgesses, were all bound over for this money.

However Rowley's daughter Elizabeth died when she was seven, and Joan at thirteen and a half years of age, both were unmarried. The two remaining daughters married, Margaret to Thomas Baker, and Alice to John Staunton, junior. Therefore these two couples should have shared the inheritance. However, the claim was contested. John Prout claimed that Joan, the youngest daughter, had contracted to marry him. However Joan died when she was thirteen years, nine months and three weeks old. Prout's claim was therefore overuled as Joan was not quite in her fifteenth year when she died. - C.P.R. p.413. m.20 (1).
